

« Citizens of the Web »

At the age of the Web 2.0, where each Internet user is not only a «visitor», but also a true «actor» of Internet, LEKTUM's mission is to help you to become a « Citizen of the Web ». Companies, institutions, associations, personalities, everybody has a role to play in Internet and everybody needs to harness it.

Because the freedom of tools determines the freedom of users, LEKTUM has chosen to develop an atypical model, only based on employing the best Content Management Systems (CMS) coming from the world of the free software, like Joomla, Drupal, WordPress or Spip.

Our idea is that the success of a web project today depends on a simple and open solution, with free of charge licences, that you can administrate easily and improve by yourself, and that can be very durable thanks to the vitality of Open Source community.
